POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Congress, it is now becoming apparent, plans to take a hand in coping with the Nation's critical manpower problem—and there are likely to be repercussions which will echo the length and breadth of the country, with War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt occupying the hottest seat in the land.

Mr. McNutt himself touched off the congressional rebellion when he announced that dependency would be abolished as a ground for draft deferment and that the heads of families, if employed in non-essential work, would be taken into the armed forces ahead of single or childless men engaged in war industries. Congress, according to current indications will countermand that order, despite the combined protests of the Army and Navy and Mr. McNutt, and probably will enact legislation definitely setting down the order in which men are to be drafted.

Manpower Chief McNutt's announced plan for a nation-wide labor draft to provide workers for essential industries, while it may continue to be used for some time as a threat to high-pressure men into shifting to war industries, is also doomed to die a-borning, Washington experts predict. Congress, in this instance, is not opposed to the principle of drafting labor, if it becomes necessary, but it would undoubtedly kick over the traces and prohibit use of the labor draft if the Roosevelt Administration attempted to require men so drafted to join labor unions. And if the Administration didn't insist on drafted workers paying initiation fees and dues to the various unions in each industry, the labor movement would fight the plan bitterly. Either way, McNutt would have a tough nut to crack—and the consensus of opinion is that, despite his name, he isn't that good a nut-cracker.

Another condition which has Congress steamed up is the asserted waste of manpower, due to featherbed labor enactments, and to overloading of government payrolls. The Interstate Commerce Commission has acted in one instance by suspending the operation of train-limit bills for the duration, but in California and some other states there are still Full Crew Laws, requiring unneeded brakemen on freight trains. If action isn't taken by the various Legislatures to suspend laws of this type which are wasting badly-needed manpower, Congress is expected to intervene.

The government's asserted hoarding of manpower has come under direct and vigorous attack from Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, who recently charged: "The Federal Government is the chief offender in the waste and hoarding of manpower in America." There are now, Senator Byrd pointed out, more than 3,000,000 civilian employes on Federal payrolls, whereas in the last war the government got along with a mere 900,000. And that summarizes some of the reasons that Congress intends to take a hand in the manpower situation.

Red Cross Work Room Moved to New Location

The Red Cross War Fund drive has been scheduled for March and at a meeting Saturday of the local Red Cross committee plans were made for the Campbell district.

Campbell's minimum quota was set by headquarters at $1500 but we are really expected to top that by a considerable sum.

Mrs. Clarence Fagalde in the Cambrian district, Mrs. E. R. Kennedy and Mrs. Frank Jacobson for the remaining territory, are arranging for solicitors, and all of these women would be very grateful for volunteers. They hope to have enough workers so that no one will have but a small section easily covered on foot.

Solicitors will be provided with an identification card to avoid any possibility of unpleasantness arising.

An announcement of the greatest interest is that the local Red Cross is to have new headquarters. The Campbell Building and Investment company has offered the use of its commodious store building between the Sprouse-Reitz store and Dr. W. R. Morgan's dental office.

The Morning Light Lodge, No. 42, I. O. O. F. ,in whose dining hall the work unit has been meeting for some months is generously loaning the use of tables and chairs.

The Hi-Y group of boys under the leadership of Ray Mathis will put the room in condition and move the equipment tomorrow, and Mrs. Ray Wood, chairman of the unit announces the next meeting day, Wednesday, March 3, will be in the new quarters.

More details of the War Fund drive will be given next week, but with everyone now so well informed of the wonderful work of the Red Cross and the greater needs that will arise as our forces get deeper and deeper into the world conflict, the quota will surely go over the top.

SPRING FREEZE!

Cerulean sky, blossoming peach trees, bees humming, daffodils nodding—but the whole world at war. Spring ecstasy in 1943 has its undercurrents. Soon golden poppies will carpet the hills, set off by lupin's blue. Already the petals of the Japanese plums blow through the air like fragrant white rain—but perhaps now we shall rename them Victory plums!

In the gardens, acacia blooms—primroses are perking up, and robins teeter on the telephone wires. Yes, it's spring—a time to be happy, to be poetic, to burst into song. Walking down to the shopping center with the warm sun friendly, one could almost forget the war. But at the grocer's, a big "freeze" is on in spite of the sun—and the cans and boxes we used to buy from the overflowing shelves of the retailers wear a touch-me-not air. Hard to realize that all over the nation—with our great system of mass distribution—no one may buy this week!

We're certainly not going hungry, but it's a curious sensation, with spring in the air, and the plenty of America all about us, to remember that war rages ever more bitterly, and that the skies outside this marvelous land of ours are black with the smoke of embattled ruins.

"Good growing weather," someone suggests.

"And we need it," comes a sober reply. Even "spring fever" cannot hide the fact of war.

WHAT A CONTRAST

Recent news stories warn of wage increase demands of coal miners, railroad employes, and others. One shipyard labor group on the Pacific coast announces that if labor decisions are made favorable to a competing labor group by the National Labor Relations Board, 350,000 shipyard workers will withdraw their no-stoppage-of-work agreements.

A news picture appearing in the same paper carrying these reports, offers a striking comparison. It shows a 28-year-old Oregon flier meeting his wife and three-year-old baby at an Oregon airport. He is on a 15-day leave home after 155 hours of combat flying "south of Mandalay," during the past 13 months. He doesn't reckon hours or wages on his job any more than millions of others in the services.

It is inconceivable that any American worker who has a spark of red blood in his veins, would slow down production or strike for any cause whatsoever, when men on the front are fighting to protect him and his family in peace at home.

Small wonder Congress is working on a bill sponsored by Representative Sam Hobbs of Alabama, to control illegitimate labor practices and racketeering.

No wonder Captain Eddie Rickenbacker speaks so bitterly on the iniquity of strikes and hold-ups which hamper production.

No wonder the public is sick of labor leadership that keeps the country in turmoil and condones or promotes work stoppages and disruption of production, in spite of all protestations to the contrary.

Many complaints have been received about people, young, and many not so young, helping themselves to flowers from plants and shrubs in others yards, upon which money and hours of work have been spent.

People who wouldn't dream of taking money that didn't belong to them seem to have no compunctions about flowers, and children are not taught to respect other people's property.

Can't a crusade be started in each home to protect the rights of others?

MORE "GO" LESS "STOP"

The government made an effort last week to put more "go" and fewer "stop" signals in traffic, to save tires, gasoline and time. Joseph B. Eastman, Defense Transportation Director, asked all state and municipal authorities to adjust traffic control methods to keep place "with changing conditions."

And along the lines of more "go," were the orders of OPA to eliminate Ration Board control over recapping of passenger automobile tires with reclaimed rubber. The order goes into effect about March 1. The source of the order warned, however, that motorists should not conclude that the rubber situation is better. The order is meant to conserve tires before they get worn below the reclaiming point. And speaking of more "go," news comes from the American Trucking association that a Victory pennant is available to all motor carriers. The pennants will bear the word "Emergency" and the official ODT sanction, set off by red, white, and blue. Attached to all trucks transporting U. S. war-time cargo, their purpose is to protect and speed truck traffic so indispensable now, especially to the farmer in his food-for-freedom crops.

Your V-mail letter to a sailor will have a better chance of getting to him without delay now, for the Navy has expanded its V-mail services. Four new V-mail stations have been sent abroad. Small, portable machines that can be quickly set up in remote areas will now be available to speed up the delivery of V-mail to sailors.

NOTE ON MUSIC

War time shortage on usual American pastimes such as driving, golfing, overnighting, sends the public more and more to seek cultural entertainment available within range of transportation!

Marian Anderson, America's foremost contralto, says one man who purchased $50 worth of tickets for one of her evening concerts, had never heard of reserved seats before. And a woman who came back stage to ask for an autograph, asked also why she did not sing the Chattanooga Choo Choo! But, declared Miss Anderson, this new-to-concerts audience has a very regulation musical appetite.

We may not quite have savage breasts, but we can take a little charming these days!

WHY BRAZIL?

Many are wondering—why did President Roosevelt stop off at Brazil on his way home from Casablanca? Brazil and the United states are the two largest nations in this hemisphere. For us to be friends—in more than pleasantries—is important.

Brazil contributes. Airfields have been made stopping points in the trans-Atlantic ferry service, and Brazilian aviators and seamen are participating in anti-submarine work. Among Brazilian resources being made available to us are manganese for steel, bauxite for aluminum, and rubber. Brazil expects to harvest 45,000 tons of wild rubber up the Amazon—and, while only a fraction of what we need, every little bit helps — and rubber development there will maintain a long range program.

Furthermore, we have made agreements to buy Brazil's usual quota of coffee, whether or not it can be shipped. Large quantities of cocoa and Brazil nuts will come our way. The outlook carries beyond present commitments to post-war cooperative enterprise between our two countries.

The largest convoy to reach Malta since the British captured Libya, steamed into that harbor last week with thousands of tons of food, munitions, gasoline—and, ladies underwear! The island rejoiced mightily.

At the same time, across the Atlantic, four French warships steamed haltingly into a United States harbor for repairs. Vice Admiral Raymond Fenard, chief of the French naval mission to the United States, greeted Admiral Ingersoll, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Atlantic fleet, on board the Montcalm, giving the news that forty-two French warships, in addition to these four, soon will be fighting on the side of the United Nations. The ships are a clearly visible token of the French desire to fight beside us whatever the nuances of politics.

Old Settlers' Day Celebrated Feb. 22

Although it appeared for a time that Old Settlers' Day which has been observed for many years on Feb 22, would be passed by this year, Martin S. Walsh, secretary of the chamber of commerce and the Campbell Union Grammar School P.-T. A. decided to put on an entertainment, although limiting it to the afternoon.

A very generous audience, considering the auto situation, and many working as usual, heard Superior Judge M. G. Del Mutolo speak on "Washington," and Clyde Arbuckle who traced the history of the prune industry from the beginnings of three Perrier brothers, Frenchmen, who came during the gold rush and on later trips to France, brought the first plantings.

The parade led by the high school band, was participated in by various groups and individuals in costume.

The pet and hobby show staged in the outer corridors and court of the grammar school brought out a wide variety and many exhibits. Members of the Kiwanis club awarded the ribbon prizes.

First prize in the doll section was won by Jean Smith; Virginia Lee Grattan and Joan Kennedy also received awards.

A blue ribbon was received by Mildred Nichaleck for a large case of neatly arranged buttons. Norman Blackmun won a prize for a display of small figurines as did Dick Kirk and Richard Geraci for a four-board panel of match book covers.

Lewis Hughes won first prize for his showing of a dozen model planes.

Many prizes were given in the livestock divisions.

A display of work by the local unit of the Red Cross, with posters, received special recognition.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Purmort registered the old settlers in attendance. Credit for their assistance in many ways throughout the day and appearing in the parade is due the Boy Scouts and assistant leader G. Arthur Tindall.

Mrs. W. H. Van Dyke, Mrs. D. W. Clark and Mrs. W. H. Grattan assisted by Paul Becker did yoeman service in handling the hobby show.

Charles Berry who was chairman of the first committee for an Old Settlers' day and has not missed one since, was present, but Mrs. Berry was ill and unable to attend. On his way home he stopped to visit William Coupland, in the hospital, who is another old settler.

The chamber of commerce wishes to extend public thanks to the people of the community for their participation in making the observance a success.

ENGAGEMENT OF EVELYN LESTER ANNOUNCED

The engagement of Miss Evelyn Jane Lester of Saratoga avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Lester, to Cadet John David Frazer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Frazer of Santa Clara, has been announced by her parents.

The news was made known at a party last week attended by intimate girl friends of the bride-elect.

No wedding plans have been made as yet as young Frazer is now taking basic training with the Army Air Corps at Majors Field, Texas.

Miss Lester attended Campbell High school, graduating with the June class of 1942.

Soldiers go from here to tactical units or to special training or officer candidate schools.

THE BOOK MARK
by marty

"Good-bye My Son" by Marjorie Coryn.

It is my opinion that many of you will turn away from this book when you first read the title, simply because you will get the idea that it is another one of "those never-ending-list of sensational war novels." It is a novel all right but let me state right here at the beginning that it is neither sensational, nor is it a story of the present war. It is a book, written in novel form, covering the life of Napoleon Bonaparte, from the date of his birth to the moment of his lonely death. It is a story of a soldier seen through the eyes of his own family, particularly through the eyes of his mother.

Equally as important to the book for its great success, and parallel with the moving and natural events that comprise the making of a character such as that of the great Bonaparte, is the remarkable story of the woman who was the mother of the Emperor Napoleon. Letizia Bonaparte was married at fourteen,, had borne four sons and lost two before she was twenty. In the years between her twentieth birthday and that of her thirty-fifth, she had suffered cruel deprivations, living with her husband, the leader of a rebel patriot band in the mountains of Corscia. Many were the times they were without sufficient food and had barely a shelter to cover their heads. At the age of thirty-five her husband died, leaving her with a turbulent brood of five sons, three daughters, the battered silver and aristocratic traditions of the Bonapartes, a vineyard, a mulberry plantation, and very little else. However, with the grace of her inbred culture, her yet slim and lovely person, she assumed the role of a matriarch. Being aristocrats, it was the privilege of her children to attend the King's schools in France, and it took all of her keen perception and able management she could command to find food for the brood of big and little children.

Letizia was a typical loving and adoring mother. Her children's troubles were hers; their joys were her joys, and her sense of fairness never let her heart have the upper hand when it was the rod that was the thing of the moment. Napoleon is a much more human figure seen through the eyes of his mother. He seems to have been a good son.

Were this book but a tale of the imagination only, it would still be worthy of your time and effort to read, but because the characters, every one of them, are real figures of history; they actually lived puts the story right up at the top of the list of things that one wants to read as a real treat to ones self.

Kiwanians Hear Member Speak on Rubber Situation

Martin S. Walsh talked to his fellow Kiwanians Tuesday on transportation in the United States as affected by the rubber situation.

Among interesting items he stated that 80 per cent of transportation in the United States was in private automobiles. A survey showed that 7 out of 10 rode to work. In Detroit 75 per cent of the people rode in private cars, in the aircraft industry on the coast 90 per cent.

The present stock pile of rubber is 631,000 tons which is supposed to last until Jan. 1, 1944. There are 842,000 tons really needed for military uses alone.

One solution lies in developing the Brazilian rubber output from wild rubber trees but that is a tremendous problem.

We are now, stated Walsh, producing 25,000 tons a month of synthetic rubber, but the real solution is in the growth of our own guayule rubber, but at present the stock pile of rubber is all we can actually depend upon, which necessitates the careful conservation of that vital material.

If no restrictions had been in effect right now only 8 million out of 28 million autos would be left running.

C. P. Klassen spoke about streamlining the reports at the Observation Post on the recommendation of Lieut. Elliott ,who also commended the local post for good work.

Highlighting the meeting was the presentation to the members by Ralph Hyde of a book entitled "Looking Back" which he had compiled and had printed, as a surprise gift to members.

It reviews the history of the club from May 5, 1926 to Jan. 1, 1943; contains a list of charter members, past presidents (with their pictures), roster of members, a Who's Who in 1943, and a list of former members with present location and occupation, with other interesting items in connection with the work of the club.

Next week Rabbi Iser L. Freund will discuss "The Jew and Contemporary Problems," with Don Baldwin, chairman.

N. O. Hultberg Dies in San Leandro Friday

In the death of Nels Olson Hultberg in San Leandro Friday, Feb. 19, a most worthy citizen passed on to his reward.

Born near Skane, Sweden, March 25, 1865, his boyhood was spent on his father's farm and in his blacksmith and implement factory. He came to America as a young man and was employed on a farm in Illinois, where he continued to use every opportunity to advance his education.

In 1893 he went to Alaska in foreign mission work, and established the first school for the Swedish Mission church in America.

He was married at St. Michael, Alaska, to Miss Hanna Holm of Sweden, also in Alaska on mission work.

Two of the three children born to them there died in infancy, so they returned to the United States.

After a trip to Sweden he located near Campbell, and the family home is still on Union avenue.

Mr. Hultberg engaged in colonizing and development in the Turlock irrigation district. He was one of the original members and workers in the California Prune and Apricot association.

Other children were born to them after leaving Alaska, and surviving him, beside his wife, are Mrs. Albia H. Erickson of San Leandro, Hilmar A. and Charles O. Hultberg of Oakland, and Chester N. and Hazel O. Hultberg of San Francisco. He leaves also three brothers and a sister in Turlock and a sister in Sweden.

Services were held Monday from the Roger Darling Garden Chapel and interment was in Oak Hill Memorial Park.

CADET STEPHENS AT SAN ANTONIO

Anxious to prove the words they sing—"Nothing can stop the Army Air Corps"—another large class of future army pilots, bombardiers and navigators was advanced this week from pre-flight training at the San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center to primary training units.

The cadets have completed satisfactorily, at this largest cadet pool, their initial studies leading to commissions and the wings of flying officers in the air corps.

Among those leaving for primary schools were 400 aviation cadets from California, including Aviation Cadet Robert J. Stephens, Route 1, Box 612F, Campbell.

Capt. Dodge Married in Clayton, Mo.

A wedding of interest to Campbell friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dodge of Laurel, and Mrs. B. O. Curry of Campbell, parents and grandparent of the groom, Capt. Robert Lewis Dodge, Jr., U. S. A., was solemnized Sunday, Feb. 14 in Clayton, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis.

The bride, Miss Dorothy Temperance Remley, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lynn Remley and the ceremony was performed in their beautifully decorated home, with the double-ring service.

The bride had two attendants and a small niece was flower girl, all attractively gowned. The bridal gown was of white satin with pointed train, lace trimmed, and worn with a face and finger-tip length veil.

Serving Captain Dodge as best man was his boyhood friend and Stanford University classmate, William Cilker who made the trip down from Detroit, Mich., for the ceremony, and David L. Remley was groomsman.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodge went east to attend the wedding, which was followed by a large reception at the exclusive Missouri Athletic club.

The young people enjoyed a weeks honeymoon at Arkansas Hot Springs, and are now located in St. Louis.

The former Miss Remley attended the Missouri University, and Capt. Dodge, who graduated from Stanford in 1941 was commissioned a second lieutenant with the R. O. T. C., entering the army in November the same year. He won his captain's rank in a little over a year after being called to service.

WATER COMPANY SENDS OUT CARDS

The Campbell Water company has sent out questionnairre cards to its patrons to ascertain the number of square feet of victory gardens contemplated in their area so that they can make application to the California Railroad Commission for a reduction in rates for such a garden, for the period May 15 to Sept. 15.

Consumers must have two hundred or more square feet to qualify for the reduction. This does not apply to commercial gardens.

The Water company is very anxious to have this information as soon as possible. Any one of their patrons who has not received a card may call for one at the office. Cards must be returned by March 8.

Last Rites for Mrs. R. K. Thomas Being Held Today

Funeral services are being held this afternoon from the chapel of Amos O. Williams company for Mrs. Ida M. Thomas, wife of the late Ruel Kent Thomas, known to all older residents of Campbell by his initials R. K. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were for many years citizens of Campbell where Mr. Thomas about 1905 purchased the small drier between South First street and the railroad, and a few years later was joined by George E. Hyde and the business expanded.

About 1909, ill health caused him to sell his interests to Mr. Hyde and retired. He and Mrs. Thomas spent their time between their home here, now owned by Dr. W. I. Merrill, and another home in Pacific Grove. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Thomas remained here but a short time and then moved to San Jose.

She was for years an active member of San Jose Chapter No. 31, O. E. S., until failing health prevented.

One son survives, the Rev. George W. Thomas of El Centro, Calif.

Emergency Crop And Feed Loans Now Available

The Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration announces that emergency crop and feed loans are now available to the farmers stockmen and poultrymen of this county and a representative will be in the office.

Full information as to who may obtain loans and the conditions attendant upon the granting of a loan may be obtained at the office.

Due to the immediate need for the increase of farm products in order that we not only be in position to properly feed our armed forces, as well as our civilian population, but in addition to meet the requirement of our Lend-Lease program, it is imperative that every available acre of productive land be put to work. Those farmers who are in need of financial assistance should file their application promptly at the office of the San Jose Production Credit association at 60 North Second street, in San Jose.

Robeson Recital In San Jose Mar. 5

Paul Robeson, the versatile Negro baritone who sings in the civic auditorium, San Jose on Friday evening, March 5, is unique among artists in the concert world. Robeson's academic education fitted him to be a lawyer. With an M. A. from Rutgers, a law degree from Columbia and an honorary doctorate from Hamilton college, Robeson was splendidly equipped to enter the law field.

With top rating in sports,

he had several offers to become a commercial football or baseball player. But his voice had no training at all. "A great singer, born to sing," he did not need it. When his voice was heard in his first concert in 1925, all New York knew that Paul Robeson was a great singer, and shortly the world knew it. The Detroit Free Press wrote, "There is, it is to be believed, no living voice which will quite compare with that of Robeson's. In full throat it is mighty to the point of exaltation, and in pianissimo a deep whisper that is all-pervading."

Lt. William J. Noethig, who graduated from port Ft. Benning, Georgia on Feb. 2, spent four days with his family in Los Gatos. He is now stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood in Missouri.

Income Tax Information

When, Where, and How Taxes Are to be Paid.

Taxes due on a return filed for the calendar year 1942 may be paid in full at the time for the filing of return on or before March 15, 1943. The tax may, at the option of the taxpayer, be paid in four equal installments instead of in a single payment, in which case the first installment is to be paid on or before March 15, the second on or before June 15, the third on or before Sept. 15 and the fourth on or before Dec. 15, 1943. If the taxpayer elects to pay his tax in four installments, each of the four installments must be equal in amount, but any installment may be paid, at the election of the taxpayer, prior to the time prescribed for its payment. If an installment is not paid in full on or before the date fixed for its payment, the whole amount of the tax remaining unpaid is required to be paid upon notice and demand from the collector.

The tax must be paid to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer's return is required to be filed—that is, to the collector for the district in which is located the taxpayer's legal residence or principal place of business, or if he has no legal residence or principal place of business in the United States then to the collector of internal revenue at Baltimore, Maryland.

In the payment of taxes a fractional part of a cent is to be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half or more, in which case it shall be increased to one cent.

The tax due, if any, should be paid in cash at the collector's office, or by check or money order payable to "Collector of Internal Revenue." In the case of payment in cash, the taxpayer in every instance should require and the collector should furnish a receipt. In the case of payments made by check or money order, however, the canceled check or the money order receipt is usually a sufficient receipt.

When Your Back Hurts—
And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.
